HEADSET REQUIREMENTS for New Asus Chromebooks At Springer

As we prepare for the launch of the new Chromebooks we are asking that you send a set of earbuds or a headset for the text-to-speech and speech-to-text application use on the Asus Chromebooks. The earbuds or headset must have a microphone built-in, much like the iPhone earbuds (with audio jack). If the headset is iPhone or iPad compatible (with audio jack) it will work with the Chromebook as well. The most important considerations of this purchase is the microphone and the comfort of the headset for your child. Some children do not like the feel of the internal earbud and prefer a headset such as the Skull Candy headphone with built-in microphone. The headset will stay with the Chromebook and must be present everyday for academic work.
